Thanks Bill. I know you told me that was the plan with the hot water heater. All else seems to be on schedule. They should be painting by Thursday.

I had the hot water tank replaced the very next morning,

I will check on what materials were ordered

Good Morning Bill:

How are you doing? I am back on-site. I wanted to see if you could give Frank and I a status on the delivery of materials that were ordered through GNBC. I know there was the main window. Anything else?

Also, were you able to fix the hot water heater? We wanted to know the answer for the plumbers.

Thanks
